Bespoke Personal Service

Bespoke Hand Painted Tiles...

At E J Tile Design, we understand that choosing the best hand painted tiles for your kitchen or bathroom isn't necessarily a quick process. We understand that you need to be sure that your interior tiles will look right in your space. That's why we offer a sample tile and sketch service; you can therefore have a clear idea of how tile size and colours will work. A scaled drawing of how the design will look across the tiles and work within your space, helps you visualize your new tiled area.

We can incorporate colours from fabrics, adapt existing designs, colour match tiles to your Aga, work to your specific space and design something truly unique for you.

Our Bespoke Service

~Special Hand Painted Tile Commissions...

We are always pleased to undertake special commissions. Our Bespoke service allows us to produce any image on tiles. Our tiles are all painted by hand, to your specification's, that could mean using colours that complement your existing décor or adjusting one of our designs to suit your space. All our designs featured on this website can be altered in size and colour to suit your individual needs. If you would like something designed to your specific taste, we are happy to work from photos, designs on fabric, or design something completely from scratch based on your thoughts and ideas, the possibilities are endless!

All the colours in our designs can be subject to a level of deviation, since they are all hand painted. We will always do our utmost to meet the needs and requirements of our customers, but please be aware that production times are linked to the type and size of design you require and the demands on the business at the time of ordering. Due to the uniqueness of our hand painted tiles, exact sample matching cannot be guaranteed. As possible with all glazed ceramic's, glazed tiles may craze over time, and we cannot guarantee against it. However, glaze technology has now progressed massively.
